Message From The Principal

Principal Leave

Mr Spicer is continuing his recovery post-surgery and is expected to return on April 4th. We wish him well as he recuperates and I know he is looking forward to returning soon.

Curriculum Day

A reminder that next Monday March 28th is a Curriculum and Student Free Day. Please make alternative care arrangements. Camp Australia is providing their services between 7am and 6pm for those who need it. Please visit their website for further details and to enrol your child if you need them to attend the Out of School Hours Care program on the day.

Parent Survey

Below is the next instalment of the results from the parent survey that we recently sent out. Thank you once again to all families who contributed to the information provided. All data is reviewed with the intent of continually improving our practice and providing the best possible educational environment for our students and families.

Morning Drop-Off Process

We continue to see the benefits of our current process of having students enter the school independently each morning and it seems that the overwhelming majority of parents do too. 90.2% of parent responses indicated the preference of maintaining the current practice of independent morning drop-offs and onsite parent pickups in the afternoon. Resultantly, we will continue with the current arrangements which sees our students developing more confidence, greater independence and has them ready and focused to learn as they enter the classroom at 9am.

- Maintain the current practice of independent morning drop offs and on-site parent pickups in the afternoon.
- Reintroduce parents on site before and after school (noting that gates will remain closed until 8:45am when staff are on duty and locked at 3:45pm).

Communication

Some clarification was sought around the use of class dojo and the expectation of when to receive a reply from a teacher. As I am sure you would understand, our teachers have many time constraints throughout the day and prioritise the education of the students in their care. While on occasion, teachers may be able to reply within a short timeframe, this is often not possible. A reply will generally be given within 1 working day. If you have something of an urgent nature, you are advised to contact the office directly.

Enrolments and School Tours

We are again receiving a significant amount of interest in our school and I would remind all families that we would appreciate you sending us a completed enrolment form as soon as possible if you have a child ready for school in 2023. In addition, if you know of any families in the area with children about to start school, please let them know that tours are available on Tuesdays and Thursdays until June. Bookings can be made via the office.

Easter Hat Parade

Our annual Easter hat parade will be held on the last day of term at 9.15am (weather permitting). Families are invited to attend the event as it will be held outside on the netball / basketball courts. Student homework will be to construct an Easter hat creation and we strongly encourage families to use this opportunity to spend some time creating the hats together.

Dogs

Parents are reminded that dogs are not permitted onsite. While a dog may be generally well trained and placid, they can become startled, frightened, over excited or even aggressive in unfamiliar environments, especially with lots of people around and where multiple students approach the dog at once. For the health and safety of all, we request that dogs remain outside the school grounds and away from the gates to allow for safe travel in and out of the school.

Lost Property

If your child is missing an item of clothing, please take the time to look through the growing collection of lost property, located in the blue tubs outside the foundation classrooms. In order to assist us in making sure that lost clothing finds its way back to the correct owner, please ensure that your child's name is clearly marked on jumpers, jackets and hats.

Professional Practice

Over the next two weeks, our staff will continue their high level of professionalism and collaboration, using their Professional Practice planning time to meet in their team levels and put in place a structured curriculum overview with supporting documentation and assessment for term 2.

Traffic Fines and Parking

Traffic officers are regularly attending Mulgrave Primary to monitor the roads around our school. They are targeting unsafe drop-offs / pick-ups, parking etc. Please obey the parking / road rules and avoid not only a fine but also the very real possibility of an accident or injury to one of our students.

Stuart Hattwell

Acting Principal

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE INFORMATION FOR PARENTS

Every Victorian child should have access to the world of learning opportunities that exist beyond the classroom. The Camps, Sports and Excursions Fund helps ensure that no student will miss out on the opportunity to join their classmates for important, educational and fun activities. It is part of making Victoria the Education State and the Government's commitment to breaking the link between a student's background and their outcomes.

CAMPS, SPORTS & EXCURSIONS FUND (CSEF)

School camps provide children with inspiring experiences in the great outdoors. Excursions encourage a deeper understanding of how the world works while sports teach teamwork, discipline and leadership. All are a part of a healthy curriculum.

CSEF is provided by the Victorian Government to assist eligible families to cover the costs of school trips, camps and sporting activities.

If you hold a valid means-tested concession card or are a temporary foster parent, you may be eligible for CSEF. A special consideration category also exists for asylum seeker and refugee families. The allowance is paid to the school to use towards expenses relating to camps, excursions or sporting activities for the benefit of your child.

The annual CSEF amount per student is:

- $125 for primary school students
- $225 for secondary school students

MORE INFORMATION

For more information about CSEF visit:
<https://www.education.vic.gov.au/about/programs/Pages/csef.aspx>

HOW TO APPLY

New applicants should contact the school office to obtain a CSEF application form or download from the website below.

If you applied for CSEF at your child's school last year, you do not need to complete an application form this year unless there has been a change in your family circumstances.

You only need to complete an application form if any of the following changes have occurred:

- new student enrolments; your child has started or changed schools this year.
- changed family circumstances; such as a change of custody, change of name, concession card number, or new siblings commencing this year.

Check with the school office if you are unsure.

4 Expert tips about video games

1. Focus on critical thinking skills

Melissa Corkum, Parent and Wellness Coach

I'm a parent coach and TV talk show host who recently interviewed my gaming husband about kids and video games. We focused on how video games can be used positively to increase critical thinking skills and how kids who seem addicted to video games aren't actually lazy...quite the opposite. If parents feel the need to curb video game time, they should look for opportunities for their child to have adventure and purpose. A lot of games are about conquering something, so we, as parents, need to find ways to challenge our kids in real life outside of screens. Our kids need the hit of dopamine that video gaming can provide.

2. Be aware of gambling and risky decision

Will Bond, Education Writer at Twinkl

When considering the dangers of video games, it's always important to note that it isn't as binary as either being good or bad. Gaming is a very broad topic that can encompass several worrying aspects that may harm a child's development. However, these can also be mitigated, while other areas offer opportunities that can in fact benefit children's growth.

As for the harmful effects of gaming, it should be known that video game addiction is a very real concern parents should have when allowing kids to play games for unrestricted amounts of time. However, with the right oversight, this issue can be reliably averted. Likewise, many modern games contain systems similar to that of gambling. 'Loot boxes' or 'packs' are common terms for in-game items that offer a reward of variable value based purely on luck. Worse still is that these items can often be paid for using real money. Parents should be particularly aware of popular games that include these features and ensure that their child understands the dangers of gambling, how it exists in their games and that real money shouldn't be spent on purchasing luck-based items.

In contrast to these downsides though, video games can also be a source of education, a platform for healthy socializing and simply a very engaging piece of entertainment that can reduce stress. There are many excellent educational games out there that balance the fun interactivity of gaming whilst being safe and educational. Video games aren't necessarily bad, it's about monitoring play and ensuring that only the right games are played.

3. Depression and mood swings are a sign of addiction

Holly Zink, Tech Expert and Writer at Digital Addicts

While playing video games in moderation is unlikely to have any negative effects on your child, the same cannot be said for those who play excessively. Video game addiction is a real disorder, and affects many teenagers and young children. This disorder can have severe developmental effects, especially on a young child. Bouts of depression, social anxiety, mood swings and loss of interest in other activities are all signs that your child may have a gaming addiction.

If you suspect that your child may be spending too much time playing video games, the best thing you can do is set limits on their playing time. Some video games (especially those targeted at children) come with parental settings that allow you to set a maximum number of hours your child can play the game. Once their allotted time has run out, they will be unable to access the game until the next day. If your child plays a game that doesn't have these parental settings, you can always practice the same method by taking away their electronics after a certain amount of time each day.

4. Take an interest in the games and events as a family

Lou Sabina, Professor at Stetson University

I would argue that the largest negative effect is developing an addiction to gaming that can distract from academics and even from children being able to form social relationships with others. Although we are in an exciting time where there are more opportunities to build relationships through gaming due to increased online connectivity within gaming platforms, there is still something to be said from face-to-face interactions that are lost when children spend too much time playing games.

I also think it's important to note now that many games and online gaming platforms have "events" now where a gamer "must complete a certain objective by Sunday at 11:59 PM Eastern Time" (for example) to receive a certain item within the game" and if they don't complete the task, they never have the opportunity to receive that item again. I think this is one of the out-of-the-box things that has changed gaming over the last 5 years that has led to more and more teens staying up at all hours of the evening just to make sure they get a certain item or reward. This is classic extrinsic motivation. However, it can detract from sleep, social opportunities, and other hobbies.

Parents should take the time to learn about the games that their children are playing, take an active interest in their gaming hobbies, but be present in their lives to show them there is a life outside of video games. It can be a hobby (it's a great hobby), but it shouldn't be the do-all and end-all in a child's life.
