Message From The Principal

Remembrance Day – Saturday November 11th

In 1918 the armistice that ended World War I came into force, bringing to an end four years of hostilities that saw 61,919 Australians die at sea, in the air, and on foreign soil. Few Australian families were left untouched by the events of World War I - 'the war to end all wars'. Most had lost a father, son, daughter, brother, sister or friend.

At 11am on the 11th of November we pause to remember the sacrifice of those men and women who have died or suffered in wars and conflicts and all those who have served to protect our country. This is an important observance that reminds us that the freedoms and prosperity that we enjoy as a nation have not come without a cost, and that we should be thankful to those who paid the price so that we may enjoy the wonders of this great country.

The Ode

*They shall grow not old,
as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them,
nor the years condemn
At the going down of the sun
and in the morning
We will remember them.
Lest we forget.*

Colour Fun Run

What an incredibly fun day that was! There's nothing like the colour fun run to put a smile on the faces of the entire school community and I would like to thank the broader community for your generous fundraising. Whilst I don't have a final total yet, I do know that we have achieved a very good result and that those funds will be put towards additional tech resources, bringing the school close to 1:1 in terms of devices for student use. In addition, we will soon be taking possession of some new shipping containers for added storage for PE and Performing Arts. These will be located behind the new stadium. The school is also looking to complete the final piece of the puzzle by adding a covered walkway between the community garden and the senior portable classrooms. The covered ways will most likely be installed over the summer break.

By-Election Saturday Nov 18th

Saturday November 18th is the Mulgrave District by-election. The school will be a voting centre on the day.

School Uniform (including hats)

There has been a significant increase in students attending school without the correct uniform over recent weeks. It is a requirement for all students to be in the correct school uniform, including the school hat. PSW has a full range of stock on hand and you can click and collect. Hopefully we can see a return to full uniform next week. It should be noted that if students are required to wear leggings for cultural reasons, the leggings should be navy blue, as per the tracksuit pants. Finally, currently there is a significant amount of misplaced uniform items in the lost property containers, which are located just outside the prep building. We ask that all uniform items are named so that if we do pick them up, they can be returned quickly and we encourage families to check the tubs to see if any of their lost items are there.

Parent Contributions

By now parents would have received the 2024 Parent Payment Arrangements letter. The letter outlines what I feel is incredible value provided by MPS. We appreciate that sometimes finding the money to pay school contributions can be difficult, which is why payment plans are available. Families can contact myself or Suzy if they would like to arrange a plan.

I strongly urge parents to support the school through making the contribution. Parent payments are the difference between providing a full program and doing the bare minimum. In addition, with future building works commencing in 2024, you may wish to consider a donation towards the new library and STEM centre. Finally, the school also puts great care into the presentation of the school grounds, your support enables us to provide a regular handyman to ensure that the school is always well maintained. In 2023 we were also able to install new line and play markings (e.g. snakes and ladders), a new covered way to the 5/6 portables is on the way and we were also able to renovate the old library to create new learning spaces. With your continued support, we can continue to maintain and improve our school so that it is the best possible learning environment for our students.

Staffing and the 2023/24 Transition Program

The school is finalising staffing arrangements for 2024. As parents would be aware, we are in the midst of a teacher shortage and this also creates opportunity for some of our current staff. In 2024, I am pleased to announce that Miss Hickleton and Miss Pope will be returning and we will be adding a third Learning Specialist, whose focus will be on student wellbeing. A full list of staff will be published as soon as possible, with children meeting their new teacher for the first time on Nov 30th. The transition program will run over three weeks, where your child can get to know their new classmates and teacher ahead of the school holidays, meaning they will be ready to hit the ground running at the start of the new school year. The transition program has proven to be very successful over the years, with students experiencing less anxiety over the summer months not having to wonder what their new class will be like, having already had the opportunity to settle in.

Families Moving On

If your child/ren are planning a move and will not be returning to MPS in 2024, can you please advise the office as soon as possible as we finalise grade lists and budgets for next year.

Happy Diwali!

Many of our community members will be celebrating Diwali on the weekend. On behalf of the MPS staff, students and community, we wish you a wonderful day, full of light and happiness.

School RUN 4 FUN COLOUR EXPLOSION

How to Turn "Chores" into "Contributions"

3 Tips for Success

TIP #1: Watch your LANGUAGE.

No, not THAT language! I'm talking about removing the word "chore" from your household vocabulary and replacing it with the word "contribution," or more specifically, Family Contribution.

The difference? Call something a "chore" and you conjure up feelings of drudgery, work, and a put-upon attitude.

The word "contribution," on the other hand, is empowering (something kids need anyway) and makes them feel significant, like they make a difference, and they're part of the larger team—your team!

Will it make Susie delighted to unload the dishwasher? Maybe not; but it will send the message that her efforts make an important contribution to the entire family. As a team—when everyone contributes and pitches in—the house runs more smoothly, things get done faster, and there's more time and energy to have FUN together.

TIP #2: INVITE Cooperation

Sometimes, the difference in whether we (readily) get cooperation from our kids or not is simply in the way we ask. When we do a lot of "ordering, correcting and directing," it's a recipe for power struggles. Even though our requests are reasonable, too much commanding makes kids feel bossed around and they're more likely to dig in their heels and resist.

Instead, try Inviting Cooperation:

"I'm slammed with work tonight, so anything you could do to clean up from dinner would really help me out." "We need to unload the camping equipment before dinner. Anything you can do to help would be fabulous!"

"Dad looks really tired from doing all the yardwork. I'm sure he'd appreciate a second set of hands for whatever time you can spare."

"I'm feeling overwhelmed with getting everything done before our company arrives. Anything you can do to get your brothers dressed and looking presentable would be a huge help."

This simple strategy rephrases requests to appeal to your kids' need for autonomy and control. Instead of feeling nagged, they can help out on their terms. This strategy allows your child to contribute in a meaningful way and feel good about it!

Now, sometimes things just have to be done NOW! And in those situations, there's nothing wrong with giving direction. However, the more we "invite cooperation," we'll be more likely to get cooperation when we just need them to Get.Moving.Now!

Even with regular use of the Inviting Cooperation tool, you still may meet some occasional resistance. If so, we have loads of tools to get kids to do what they're supposed to do - without any nagging, reminding or yelling required.

TIP #3: Let them know you NOTICE.

Why? Because the difference between a “chore” and a “contribution” is the difference it makes to someone else. Take that in for a moment. If my work makes a difference for YOU, that makes me feel better about doing that task. Everyone wants to know they make a difference—even when the jobs are “expected.” Let your kids know the impact of their contributions and what it means to YOU.

No one likes clearing the table, sweeping a floor, or cleaning out a toy chest—but when your kids notice that you NOTICE—it changes everything. Be specific as you let them know their efforts make a difference:

“I really appreciate when you put away the folded laundry. I know it’s not your favorite job but it makes huge a difference for me!”

Or, help your kids understand when everyone helps, everyone wins:

“Hey, you really helped out the family tonight. Now we have extra time to play a game, go for a bike ride, bake some cookies, etc.”

Showing appreciation for your kids efforts—even the “expected” jobs—means you’ll have fewer power struggles and better cooperation and that’s a win-win you can count on.

FINAL THOUGHTS

Like any shift in mindset and behaviours, putting these tools in place takes time, practice, and patience. When you feel the shift take root in your home, it will not only be rewarding NOW, but you’ll set the stage for your kids to grow into hard-working, contributing adults. That’s great news—well beyond tidy beds, sorted socks, and swept floors, wouldn’t you say?

Could you be a Foster Carer?

Scan me!

Find out more about foster care and how you can make a difference.

We want to work with you to make a positive and lasting difference to the lives of children in your community.

As a Key Assets foster carer we'll provide you with 24/7 support, a dedicated social worker and on-going training. If you're looking to provide love, safety and care for a child we'd love to hear from you.

Are you over 25 with a spare bedroom?

If you answered yes then you're already on your way to becoming a foster carer.

Victorian children and young people in your local community need a safe space
to call home

Our carers Emma and Adam say...

There are so many children
in need and so few people willing to take the risk.

I thank Key Assets for making a difference; the financial support means we can go beyond boundaries to give these children every opportunity to grow, develop and reach their potential.
